In a limited number of cases, individual technical staff/administrators of professional artistic companies may also be eligible.

Please note that the Arts Council may use its own judgement in determining this matter. Applicants undertaking a Masters or a PhD must also include a separate statement which provides information on how the project applied for differs from their Masters or PhD work. APPLICATION DEADLINES

All schemes operate on a deadline basis except Travel Awards. The Arts Council will not fund any project which is due to start before it makes its decision (see decision dates on front page).

Online applications may be edited, saved and returned up to the closing date (with the exception of the Travel Awards, which is a rolling programme). You MUST submit ALL documents associated with any part of the application at the same time.

All documents must be in Word, Excel or pdf format. We cannot accept documents in other formats. The total size of all your uploaded documents and enclosures must not exceed 25 Mb.

Please ensure that you leave sufficient time to upload all documents to the system as there can be long delays as the closing deadline approaches and the system will shut down at 4.00 pm on the closing date. If your complete application is not uploaded when the system closes your application will not be accepted.

It is your responsibility to ensure that we receive the application form and documents by the closing time and date.

The application form includes an Equality Monitoring Form, which enables the Arts Council of Northern Ireland to ensure fair and wide access to this programme. This does not form part of the decision-making process; however you are required to fill this in as the Council is obliged to comply with equality legislation.

2. The Arts Council will acknowledge receipt of application forms within 20 working days of receipt of your application.
3. Applications will be assessed against the criteria listed above by an Arts Development Officer.
4. Decisions on all awards are made by Directors based on recommendations by artform officers.
5. Following the decision, successful applicants will be issued with a contract outlining the conditions attached to the award and the purposes for which the award can be used. If there are any changes to the original application the Arts Council must be informed immediately in writing. Failure to do so may involve repayment of any award made, and will affect decisions on any future applications you might make.
6. On receipt of a signed contract, payment of the award will be made electronically through the BACS system which can take up to three weeks to clear. Ten percent of the award will be withheld until the project is completed and a satisfactory post-project report has been received.
7. Successful applicants will be required to complete a brief post-project report. Where appropriate, a copy of the completed work should be submitted, eg published work, draft script, catalogue of works exhibited. Copies of travel ticket(s) and receipts for goods and materials purchased must also be returned with the report. If the report and receipts are not returned the balance of the award will not be paid and you will be ineligible to apply for funding again for 4 years (from the date of your letter of offer) and we may ask for the return of the first instalment of the grant.
8. Unsuccessful applicants will receive a letter detailing the reason/s why the application was unsuccessful.

The Arts Council is committed to identifying artists of real talent; whose artistic achievement or potential is already obvious; who have a clear and realistic view of their potential career as an artist; who can articulate how they can benefit from the joint investment of two or more organisations, including the Arts Council; and who can demonstrate the capacity to recognise and exploit the challenge presented by these award. The awardees will be expected to be artists from whom work of serious value can be expected in coming years.

Development of an application:

The partner organisation of your choice should offer a range of developmental support including mentoring, presentational skills and networking leading to presentation/publication of work, where appropriate. You will need to provide a Letter of Support with your application from the partner organisation of your choice. Following the decision to make an award, the partnership package will be designed with the organisation to meet the individual applicant's needs.

You must provide a detailed programme of the work and of the professional development activity that you plan to undertake and outline what you aim to achieve overall.

You will need to include a costed plan which should include materials and equipment as well as professional services. You may list training needs under formal training with your budget. If the costs are not apparent for this element, please list your needs anyway.

Representatives from the named organisation will be consulted regarding your application.

Visual Arts/Craft

Applicants should consider the relevance of the partner organisation to the content of their proposal. Applicants should be a career artist with a history of contribution to the visual arts/craft and have shown work in a range of exhibitions and galleries. Catalogue costs may be considered if a clear need is identified within the proposal and a distribution plan is included.

Visual Arts Curators

It is expected the partner gallery will offer a range of training in curating gallery exhibitions. The mentoring programme should be agreed with the partner organisation on appointment.

Literature

The Arts Council has a partnership with the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry at Queen's. THIS DOES NOT INCLUDE MENTORING. It is an affiliation on events and support which occur through the year of the award. If you are seeking mentoring support, you should devise and source your own programme of activity and submit this as part of your proposal. You can still indicate a willingness to work with the Seamus Heaney Centre. You should note that you do not require a letter of support from the Centre. Further, please do not contact the Centre in advance of your application for ACES. Applicants simply need to indicate a willingness to work with the Centre over the year. Applicants can also indicate other partnerships of their own devising; however, these will need to be evidenced and of an equivalent high standard. You should contact any other organisation (mentor, course provider, etc.) which may form part of your proposal.

Poetry:

Applicants must have at least one full collection published in the last ten years OR evidence of publication of individual poems in recognised poetry magazines in Ireland or abroad.

Prose Fiction:

Applicants must evidence a significant level of publication of short fiction or extracts and a completed novel or completed collection of short stories and submit a significant endorsement from a recognised literary publisher or published creative author from Ireland or abroad.

Self-published material is not in itself evidence of artistic ability or career development.

Music & Traditional Arts

Applicants must be established career artists.

For performing artists (i.e. musicians, storytellers): Applicants must show evidence of professional performances in recognised festivals and venues at local and national level.

Composers must show that they have received a commission by a reputable music organization. Self-published work will not be deemed as eligible evidence of artistic experience

Drama

Applicants should be an early career artist with at least 2 years' contribution to the theatre sector as a professional practitioner.

Applicants must identify a planned and structured residency with a company.

Dance

Applicants should be career artists, who have made at least 3 years' professional contribution to the dance sector, who are interested in consolidating their practice; or developing a new practice within a dance organisation or within an arts organisation that programmes/features dance activities. For example, a dancer-in-residence position.

Participatory Arts

Participatory Arts includes Community (including Social Inclusion), Arts & Disability, Minority Ethnic Arts, Circus, Carnival, Arts & Health and Youth Arts. Applicants must have participated in and/or developed at least two high level participatory arts projects in the last 2 years.

It is expected that the successful applicants will share learning arising from the award with the arts and community development sector. Applicants need to demonstrate a commitment to collaborative practice within an intercultural community development setting and context that equally acknowledges and prioritises community development and artistic outcomes.

If you feel that your artform area or proposed development programme does not fit within any of these categories, you should discuss this when you contact your artform officer. If you are unsure who this is, please contact one of the Heads of Visual Arts, Participatory Arts, Music or Literature & Drama.

Individual artists, including creative producers, curators and editors, can apply.

Although the Artists' International Development Fund is aimed primarily at individual artists, arts organisations who wish to take small scale work abroad can apply as can small groups of artists who normally collaborate in their work. - Create early relationships with artists and/or creative producers with a longer term view of developing international markets and audiences for their work in another country and building their profile internationally

The programme can cover the targeted exchange of key creative people to develop new concepts or relationships. Applicants will need to conduct their own research and have identified and communicated with a potential partner/host in the country they wish to visit. Applications could include one or two international visits (for Northern Ireland applicant to travel overseas or overseas partners/collaborators to visit Northern Ireland or both).

You are eligible to bring other sources of funding or sponsorship to the project/ grant.

We would expect projects to be completed within one year of the decision.

ANNE O'DONOGHUE AWARD

Please note: For this scheme you MUST contact and discuss your application with a Participatory Arts team Artform Officer prior to making an application or your application will be ineligible.

Anne O'Donoghue became Director of Play Resource Warehouse (PRW) in 1984. Over the next thirty years she led in the transformation of the organisation, building an essential material and training resource for all those involved in the arts in particular recycling waste materials from factories, shops, offices and warehouses for creative activities and educational projects in communities across Northern Ireland.

A significant achievement for Anne during this period was the establishment of a purpose-built centre in North Belfast, completed in 2002. These new premises marked the transition of PRW into a major arts infrastructure organisation with its mission to 'create opportunities to develop the creative potential of children and young people in Northern Ireland, which enhances their quality of life and strengthens their ability to express themselves fully and freely'.

Sadly, Anne passed away in September 2014. As a long-time champion of Community Arts practice in Northern Ireland, Anne's legacy is significant. In particular, her high standards of practice for the design and delivery of services and her support for the continued professional development of her team at PRW, community leaders, teachers and artists.

As part of its commitment to Community Arts, the Arts Council aims to support a sustainable sector through strengthening professional formation and development in the Community Arts sector.

The Anne O' Donoghue Award aims to support formal or informal courses, mentoring, coaching, supervision, research and/or cultural exchanges with other arts and cultural managers on a national or international level. The award also aims to build the professional capacity (business/managerial skills) of those working in the community arts sector through supporting continuous professional development.

How we define Community Arts:

The Arts Council defines Community Arts as "... the process of harnessing the transformative power of original artistic expression, producing a range of social, cultural and environmental outcomes. Looked at politically, socially, culturally and/or economically, Community Arts aims to establish and maximise inclusive ways of working, providing an opportunity for communities and their participants to continue to find ways to develop their own skills as artists and for artists to explore ways of transferring those skills. Through this process, Community Arts aim to maximise the access, participation, authorship and ownership in collective arts practice."
